Eligibility of Immigrants for Health Insurance Coverage

Eligibility for Medicaid and CHIP

Under the Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Reconciliation Act of 1996, “qualified” immigrants may be eligible for Medicaid and CHIP. Many qualified immigrants, however, are subject to a five-year waiting period (the “five year bar”) which begins when the immigrant first obtains a “qualified” immigration status.

Qualified Immigrant Categories Defined by Statute:

- Lawful Permanent Residents (LPRs/green card holders)
- Refugees*
- Asylees*
- Cuban/Haitian entrants*
- Persons who were paroled into the U.S. for more than a year
- Conditional entrants*
- Persons granted withholding of deportation/removal
- Certain domestic violence and trafficking survivors and their derivatives*
- Member of a federally-recognized Indian tribe or American Indian born in Canada

People with a “qualified” immigration status who are not subject to the 5 year bar include those with an * above as well as the following below:

- Immigrants who entered the U.S. before 8/22/1996
- Qualified immigrants who are U.S. veterans or on active military duty and their spouses and children
- People who were paroled into the U.S. for more than a year
- Individuals granted Iraqi/Afghan special immigrant status

NOTE: “Lawfully residing” children and pregnant women are eligible for Medicaid and CHIP in some states without being subject to the 5 year bar. Some states provide coverage through a CHIP option to pregnant women regardless of immigration status. Find out whether your state has taken up those options here: <http://bit.ly/2tKJBCX>

Eligibility for Marketplace Coverage

Eligibility for the health insurance Marketplace is broader than for Medicaid and CHIP. In general, citizens and “lawfully present” immigrants are eligible to buy health insurance and get tax credit subsidies in the ACA Marketplaces. “Lawfully present” includes “qualified” immigrants, plus additional categories (see below).

Coverage Landscape for Families that Include Immigrants

Declaring Cash Income

Many immigrants work in jobs that may not provide traditional payment, and so will not have the standard documents needed to verify income to Medicaid or the Marketplace. One way to help immigrants in this situation to prove their income is via an “I earn cash” affidavit. Here is an example:

Date
 Applicant’s name
 Address
 Telephone number

To Whom It May Concern:
 I, _____, am writing you this letter as proof of my income because I am paid in cash and have no pay stubs. I work as a [occupation] _____ and I make [cash amount] $ _____ every _____ [frequency of pay].

Thank you so much for your help.

Verification of Identity and Immigration/Citizenship Status

As part of the Marketplace enrollment process, applicants will be asked to verify their identity and immigration or citizenship status.

To verify identity: Household contacts who cannot complete the identity proofing process online or over the phone can submit copies of certain documents to prove their identity.

To verify citizenship: U.S. citizen applicants will be asked to provide a Social Security Number and to attest to being a U.S. citizen. The Marketplace will then attempt to verify citizenship electronically by matching this information with Social Security Administration records.

To verify immigration status: Immigrant applicants will be asked to attest to having an “eligible immigration status” and to provide applicable document numbers, typically an Alien Registration Number (“A number” or “USCIS number”) or I-94 number. The Marketplace will then attempt to verify status by matching this information with data from SAVE (Systematic Alien Verification for Entitlements).

If citizenship or immigration status cannot be verified as described above, the following documents can be used to prove identity and immigration/citizenship status.

Requests for Immigration Status and Social Security Numbers (SSNs)

Marketplace, Medicaid, and CHIP applications allow household members who aren't applying for coverage to designate themselves as a "non-applicant", who does not have to disclose their immigration status or SSN.

Providing a Social Security Number makes electronic verification easier which can reduce paper documentation.

Non-Applicants:

- Should be told whether providing a SSN is required or optional, why they are being asked for it, and how it will be used.
- If asked for their immigration status or SSN, they should say, "I am not applying for health insurance for myself."
- Must only provide information that is relevant to determine eligibility such as income and tax filing status.

Applicants

- Medicaid and CHIP applicants generally need to provide an SSN, but if they don't have one or don't know it, agencies must help them apply for an SSN.
- In the Marketplace, only applicants who have an SSN are required to provide one
